Due to the steady increase in online trade, there are more and more transporters on the roads in both urban and rural areas, which leads to an increased demand for spare parts. When accidents occur, body parts are often the most affected components. To minimise repair times and get the vehicle back on the road, it is crucial to replace the damaged parts as quickly as possible. The DT Spare Parts brand offers a big plus point here.

The Diesel Technic product brand not only impresses with high availability but also with a wide range of high-quality spare parts for commercial vehicles, including transporters (incl. < 3,5t).

In addition to front grilles, mudguards and bonnets, customers also receive spoilers, bumpers and bumper covers, as well as mirrors, door panels, wind deflectors and trim strips, among others. The articles are suitable for installation in vehicles of the brands Ford, Iveco, Peugeot, Toyota, Citroen, VW, MAN (TGE), Mercedes, Dacia, Fiat, Nissan, Opel and Renault. Interested customers can find the DT Spare Parts range in the Diesel Technic Partner Portal.

Hints & tips:

In their new PS Tips video, the Parts Specialists – the workshop professionals from Diesel Technic – once again reveal practical hints and tips on body parts for transporters.

In general, parts should be checked for accuracy of fit before painting, as e.g. supports, brackets or similar may no longer be in their original condition. These may have to be replaced or repaired.

Regarding parts identification, Parts Specialist Lars recommends always consulting the vehicle identification number (VIN). He also discusses the quality of DT Spare Parts brand products: To ensure the longevity of the articles, only high-quality compound ratios are used to manufacture DT Spare Parts brand articles.

For technical questions, the Parts Specialists HelpDesk is available. More workshop videos can be seen on the Parts Specialists YouTube channel: ps-web.tv.
